"On a grander scale, I believe that the LMC could be considered a new model of South-South cooperation that supports the LMC member countries to deliver economic prosperity to their people under the framework of the United Nations 2030 Agenda for Sustainable Development," Cambodian Foreign Minister Prak Sokhonn said.

At an exhibition showcasing LMC achievements in Phnom Penh in January, Chinese telecommunications giant Huawei exhibited its various cooperation projects in Cambodia, Laos, Thailand and Myanmar. The Chinese company is currently the largest information and communication technology provider in Cambodia, serving more than one third of its population.

200-member Indian AYouth Delegation is currently visiting China as part of the efforts by the two governments to provide opportunities to their youth to mutually understand each other better.

The delegation comprising students, re-searchers, youth leaders and young achievers is visiting various Chinese cities, including Bei-jing, Wuhan, Kunming, Shanghai and Guang-zhou, from July 3 to 10. India and China have implemented the annual India-China Youth Exchange program since 2006-07. Large delegations of Chinese youth have also been visiting India under the program. Last year, the Indian delegation visited Bei-jing, Hefei, Changsha, Guangzhou and Shanghai from 9-17 June.

In his speech at the welcome reception for the visiting delegation on July 5, Ambassador of India to China Gautam Bambawale emphasized strengthening people-to-people exchanges between the two countries while covering all aspects of India-China bilateral relations.

He said that through annual youth exchange program, the governments of India and China intend to provide opportunities to their youth to mutually understand each other better.

During the youth's stay in China, the delegation will get a wide opportunity to experience various facets of China's economy, society and culture through company visits, tours and lectures.

They would gain firsthand knowledge about China with the help of close interaction with experts and practitioners from various fields, including industry, education, sports, science and technology, urban planning, agriculture and health

The delegation also visited Kunming University in southwest China's Yunnan Province. This is the first delegation from SCO countries coming to Kunming after SCO-China Centre for Youth Exchanges was established in Kunming in December last year.
