Trade increases between Kunming and Southeast Asia

In the first nine months of 2018, according to statistics released by Kunming Customs, Kunming achieved a total import and export trade value of 9.575 billion US dollars. This statistic represents a year-on-year increase of 95 percent, ranking first among all the Chinese provincial capital cities in terms of comparative growth.

In the first three quarters of 2018, the trade growth rate between Kunming and Southeast Asia accounted for 15 percent of the Belt and Road Initiative. In the fruit shops selling fresh fruits from Southeast Asia including durian from Thailand and dragon fruit from Laos, we can buy fresh flowers for sale in the flower shops from Vietnam, and could see the trees that might have been growing in the fields of Kunming the day before.

The flower stalls in Kunming combine to create the largest fresh-cut flower market in China. Last year, 6.5 billion fresh cut flowers, equivalent to one flower for every person in the world, came from more than 30 countries and regions. Huai Mingxian, one of the first flower growers in Kunming Village, has said he felt more than happy to grow flowers for other visitors. "Now we have expanded our business to markets all over the world," he said with pride. He said that the flower market in Kunming is constantly developing rapidly, the flowers of Southeast Asia and South Korea are sold in Kunming, but we do not export foreign flowers here, as we have the best flowers in the world to become good friends. We learn from and cooperate with each other in order to expand our businesses." (Xinhua)
